Dear President _____, or Senator _____, or Representative _____, or Administrator Wheeler:

I am concerned about air pollution. I am a healthy person and so are my parents, but my grandparents have a hard time breathing and my little brother has asthma. I heard that you might tell the car companies that it's okay to go back to polluting the air the way they used to. I'm very worried. My mom says she remembers when she could barely breathe in Los Angeles when she was a kid.

I think that we can all take care of each other better, and I think you must understand that since you are the head of the whole United States.

Sincerely,
My name

P.S. I drew you a picture of my family for you to put on your wall. We want a blue sky, not a black one. Thanks again

Now, MAIL IT! Yay!
